RESCUE FOOD

INFORMATION FOR SERVICE AGENCIES

What is Leftovers and what do we do?

The Leftovers Foundation is a registered charity founded in Calgary, AB with the dual mission of minimizing food waste and increasing food access through several different initiatives.

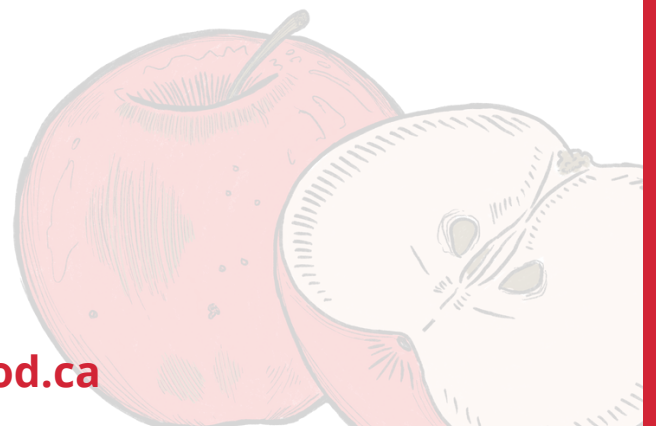

In 2019, we rolled out an app to connect volunteers with food redirection routes, making it easier than ever to facilitate food rescue. Our app-based program strives to eliminate food waste by using community mobilization to redirect good food into the hands of those in need through local service agencies. There is no charge to participate; each day we redirect edible food with the help of a small but growing army of volunteers.

How can our organization receive food donations?

Registered charities and service agencies can apply to start receiving donations by filling out our agency questionnaire.

Based on the information you provide, we will try our best to match you with food donations that meet your institutional needs when they come available in your area. We will confirm a drop-off schedule and our volunteers will deliver the donations to you.

If you have any other questions, please don't hesitate to ask!

Unsold food is rescued from participating, local businesses by volunteers, like you & me!

We coordinate to pick up and deliver food to participating service agencies in need on a weekly basis.
